This issue of the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer and its accompanying Statistical Annex include an analysis of preliminary results for international tourism for the period January-April 2013 based on arrivals and receipts data reported by destinations around the world. Furthermore, it includes an outlook for the period May-August based on the UNWTO Panel of Experts and air transport bookings data from business intelligence tool ForwardKeys.

This release is available only in electronic format, through the UNWTO elibrary, and is free of charge for members. The release is provided in English only, while the Statistical Annex is available in English, French, Spanish and Russian.

An extra 12 million international arrivals in January-April 2013

A total of 288 million international tourists (overnight visitors) travelled worldwide between January and April 2013, up 12 million on the 286 million registered in the same period last year (+4.3%). Results were positive in all UNWTO regions, with the strongest growth in Asia and the Pacific, Europe and the Middle East, and weaker growth in the Americas and Africa. By subregion, South-East Asia (+12%) and Central and Eastern Europe (+9%) continued to be the star performers.

Prospects remain positive for the period May-August, the Northern Hemispheer's summer peak season, with around 435 million tourists expected to travel abroad during the four months. The pace of growth might slow somewhat, as shoulder seasons tend to show faster growth than the peak season.

International air travel reservations for the May-August period from business intelligence tool Forwardkeys support this outlook with a 4% increase in bookings for that period. Flight reservations for travel within the same region (+5%) are stronger than those between regions (+3%). The highest growth is recorded in international flight reservations from Africa and the Middle East (+7%) and the Americas (+5%), followed by Europe (+3%) and Asia and the Pacific (+2%).
The UNWTO World Tourism Barometer is a publication of the World Tourism Organization (UNWTO). By monitoring short-term tourism trends on a regular basis, UNWTO aims to provide all those involved, directly or indirectly, in tourism with adequate up-to-date statistics and analysis in a timely fashion.

The UNWTO World Tourism Barometer is periodically updated. Issues contain as regular sections: an overview of short-term tourism data from destinations, generating countries and air transport; the results of the latest survey among the UNWTO Panel of Tourism Experts, providing an evaluation of and prospects for short-term tourism performance; and selected economic data relevant for tourism. The objective for future editions of the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer will be to broaden its scope and improve coverage gradually over time.

The UNWTO World Tourism Barometer is prepared by UNWTO’s Tourism Trends and Marketing Strategies Programme, with the collaboration of consultants, Nancy Cockerell and David Stevens. The UNWTO Secretariat wishes to express its sincere gratitude to all those who have participated in the elaboration of the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer, in particular all institutions that supplied data, and to the members of the UNWTO Panel of Tourism Experts for their valuable contributions.

Some 435 million tourists expected worldwide in the May-August peak season

- Boosted by an early Easter holiday, the best figures were recorded in March, when tourist arrivals grew an estimated 8% compared to the same month last year. February 2013 was also strong in tourist activity (+5%). On the other hand, January and April were rather weaker (both +2%), but for April this was principally due the Easter holiday date shift from early April in 2012 to late March in 2013.
- Growth was positive in all UNWTO regions, though results where rather mixed. Asia and the Pacific (+6%) saw the highest relative growth, in particular boosted by arrivals in South-East Asia (+12%) and South Asia (+9%), while growth in North-East Asia (+2%) was more subdued.
- Europe (+5%) also showed above-average growth. Central and Eastern Europe (+9%) continues to drive growth, while Southern and Mediterranean Europe (+5%) also turned in strong results. For the Middle East growth is also estimated at 5%, though some caution should be exercised when interpreting this figure as it is based on still rather limited data.
- Africa (+2%) and the Americas (+1%) reported rather weak growth in the first four months of 2013, though following strong results in 2012 (+6% and +5% growth respectively). At the subregional level, results were mixed in the Americas, with a small decline in the Caribbean (-1%) and firm growth in Central America (+4%). In Africa, 3% growth in Subsaharan Africa contrasts with zero growth in North Africa, though this is predominantly based on information from a limited number of destinations.

As the summer season gets underway in the Northern Hemisphere, the short-term outlook for international tourism remains positive.

- Respondents to this edition of the UNWTO Panel of Experts survey showed sustained confidence, but with variations by region and activity. Confidence picked up significantly in Europe, the Middle East, among Global operators and among Tour operators and travel agencies. On the other hand confidence decreased among experts in Asia and the Pacific, the Americas and Africa, as well as among experts in the Transport sector.

UNWTO expects some 435 million tourists to travel internationally between May and August, the peak season in most of the world’s leading outbound markets and tourism destinations. In past years these four months represented roughly 41% of the yearly total.

- However, the pace of growth is likely to slow somewhat in the peak season, as volume tends to grow faster in the shoulder season with capacity being less of a constraint and price can be used to stimulate extra demand.
- Prospects are confirmed by data on air transport bookings from business intelligence tool ForwardKeys, which shows that reservations for international air travel worldwide for the period May-August are 4% higher than in the same period.
last year. Flight reservations for travel within the same region (+5%) are stronger than those between regions (+3%). Air transport is an important tourism indicator as it represents around half of all international travel worldwide according to UNWTO destinations’ data.

• According to UNWTO’s forecasts for 2013 published in the January edition of the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer, international tourist arrivals are expected to increase 3% to 4% in the full year. The expected pace of growth is only slightly below 2012 levels (4%) and in line with UNWTO’s long-term forecast of 3.8% per year for the period 2010 to 2020.
